

This Week: What son of Jacob's sons was described as having teeth whiter than milk?

Last Week: What ruler was eaten by worms before he died? Herod (Acts 12:23)

A TIME OF PRAYER & PRAISE:

The week of Thanksgiving, we will meet on Tuesday evening, November 26. All Bible classes will meet in the FLC for a TIME OF PRAYER & PRAISE. We will not meet on Wednesday evening.

HEART TO HOME:

The next fellowship of Heart to Home will be on Tuesday, November 19, at 6:00 PM at the Student Center. All of the ladies who have signed up to be a mom or a sister are encouraged to be present. If you cannot be present, please contact one of your heart moms.

The youth group will provide babysitting at the church building beginning at 5:45 that evening. Parents are requested to please bring a meal for your children. The youth will provide games and supervision.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to MARTY HAWKINS, and his family, on the recent death of his aunt, DOLORES BURK.

The Tongue and Its Potential

Words are vehicles for thought, and the process of communication is amazing indeed. We can take a single word like "stop!" or "help!" and stir immediate action in others. We can take a series of words and convey lofty ideas or wreak havoc and leave scars which may never heal. Words can lift us to the heights of ecstasy or drive us to the depths of despair. They can wreck or revive—ruin or restore.

When we speak it should be plain. Some of the Jews once said to Jesus, "If thou art the Christ, tell us plainly" (John 10:24), and though their motive was not right, there was nothing wrong with the request. One of the characteristics of the false teacher is that he cannot be understood because he "speaks great swelling words of vanity" (2 Peter 2:18).

When we speak it should be true. The Holy Spirit says, "Lie not one to another" (Colossians 3:9). Those who lie will have their place in the lake of fire (Revelation 21:8). Lying to men is the same as lying to God (Acts 5:4)—and it never escapes His attention.

When we speak it should do some good. The tongue can help others. Think of the words of encouragement we can offer to others—words of kindness, appreciation, sympathy. These can change a person's day and even his life.

Our words are never neutral. They have an influence for good or bad. All of us must think before we speak. Too many of us do not concentrate on doing good with our words, but just throw our minds into neutral and let our big mouths roll on.

The greatest potential of the tongue is to be found in words spoken for Jesus. Some people think it is only the business of preachers to speak for Jesus, but it is not. All of us who belong to Him can speak for Him and lead others to Christ. These are not just life-changing words—they are eternal-life-changing words. Let us not be too timid or ashamed to speak them.

The unkind word we might have kept,
Who knows how hard it pierced and stung;
And the word we had not sense to say,
Who knows how grandly it could have rung!
